  - You must seek research exemption approval from your Head of School, Executive Dean and Deputy Vice Chancellor (DVC): Research and Innovation.*

* Please follow process detailed in the ‘Method For Seeking Research Exemption Approval’ side

- Please follow any funder specific processes (see RIS website for more details regarding UK funders).
  - Work with your Faculty Research and Innovation office (FRIO) to obtain any necessary standard local and supplementary approvals *(where applicable) and to complete accurate costings. Please also inform your Head of School / Institute so that the COVID-19 project can be logged internally.
1. Discuss your project with your Head of School (HoS) and obtain their support in principle. Please ensure you also follow any standard local approval processes for research activity in your School/Institute/Faculty as you would normally for research applications.

2. Contact your local Faculty based Health and Safety team (contacts can be found here http://wsh.leeds.ac.uk/staffcontacts?keyword=) to draft a business case in order to seek approval that the work can be undertaken under the current circumstances.

3. Send project summary/draft application (if applying for new funds)/business case (if step 2 applies) to your HoS and obtain their approval and support of the project in writing.

4. Send HoS approval along with project summary/draft application/business case (as applicable) to the Dean of your Faculty/Executive Dean for approval.

5. Once you have HoS and Dean approval, please send this with your business case/application form/project summary (as applicable) to r-idevelopment@leeds.ac.uk. The UK Research Development team will seek approval and sign-off from the Deputy Vice-Chancellor: Research and Innovation and return this to the applicant once approved.
